

■ Suzlon Energy Commissions Offshore Met Station

NEW DELHI Wind energy solutions provider Suzlon Energy and its associates have commissioned their first operational offshore meteorological station in the Arabian Sea.

“Suzlon, with its associates, under the guidance of the National Institute of Ocean Technology and approvals through the National Institute of Wind Energy, has installed its first operational offshore LiDAR (light detection and ranging)-based wind measurement station in the Arabian Sea,” Suzlon said in a BSE filing.